

Far Eastone has supported the development of domestic culture

The support methods and results are disclosed as follows :

In 2022, FET supported the art and cultural organization Duck Art Studio to promote art and cultural affirmative activities. The hearing-impaired artists co-created the project of "Dance in Silence" with the hearing ones, as well as Taiwan's first baby theater "Baby Sound Wave". FET has taken advantage of its core information and telecommunication technology to help promote its products through multiple channels such as SMS and the "FET Heart Life App", and has provided the space on the first floor of the headquarters as a performance venue to encourage FET customers and employees to participate in quality arts and culture events to revitalize the arts and culture industry in Taiwan.

In addition, friDay Vedio, a subsidiary of FET, launched its "original intellectual property investment" strategy in 2020 and invested more than NT$7 million to complete its first original multi-viewpoint reality show, "Extreme Wonderland". During the program's premiere, it surpassed the Korean variety show "Running Man" to become the top-rated variety show and also drove a 30% growth in new registered users. In 2021, friDay Video collaborated with Public Television Service to co-produce " On Marriage," investing NT$30 million to present the story of a "semi-happy" marriage with a combination of new technology and science fiction style. The show received a tremendous response and positive reviews after its release, with the leading segment " Wishful Syncing" attracting nearly 350,000 viewers during its debut on Public Television Service and becoming the most-watched drama on friDay Video.

With this momentum, FET has partnered with Star Ritz International Entertainment, Pili International Multimedia, and Taipei DI Cinema to establish Mission Entertainment, which is dedicated to producing and investing in high-quality Taiwanese film and television contents and promoting cultural contents such as Taiwanese film and television, literature, etc. The goal is to bring Taiwan in line with the world and make Taiwan the center of Asian film and television trends. Subsidiary company Misson International also invested NT$5 million to shoot "After School," which is scheduled to be released this year. In 2023, subsidiary company Mission International invested a total of 12 million, persistently supporting original intellectual properties to venture into the international market, launching the first Taiwan-Japan collaborative film titled "Seishun 18x2 tw" scheduled to be released in March 2024. Additionally, subsidiary company Mission international also invested in producing "Extreme Forest 2", an original reality variety show, featuring real-life exploration and experiences related to forests, flora and fauna, and ecological conservation issues.

The show is set to air in November 2023.
